

Guide to Choosing Modules for Incoming Study Abroad Students

The following information will help you to choose your modules at the University of Liverpool.

Module codes are in the format of 4 letters (which indicate the school/department) and three numbers. The first number indicates the level e.g. PSYC101 is a first year module in the School of Psychology.

The possible levels are:

1 = 1st Year module

2 = 2nd Year module

3 = 3rd Year module

4 or 5 = Masters Level module

At the University of Liverpool (as is normal for UK Higher Education), students studying for a full degree normally study a set curriculum according to their current year of study, i.e. there is no US-style general education requirement. As such, it is important that you check the pre-requisites for any Level 2 or 3 modules, as a full-degree student will have covered these pre-requisites in their 1st/2nd year of study.

In general, Level 4 or 5 modules are not open to Study Abroad students. It is also important to note that you cannot take re-sits (should you fail a module) for Level 3, 4 or 5 modules.

We have tried to include module lists for as many subject areas as possible. If the subject you want to study is not listed, then please contact us.

We have divided our guidance as follows:

General Guidance: This is guidance directly from our Academic Study Abroad Co-ordinators (ASACs) as to choosing modules from their subject areas

Recommended modules: Modules which ASACs feel may be of particular interest to Study Abroad students

Closed modules: Modules which are not open to Study Abroad students

Link to Module List: A link to all modules in that particular subject area (please note the information above). Make sure you choose modules for the correct semester.

Archaeology, Classics and Egyptology (ACE), Department of

General Guidance: Access to some language modules (e.g. Greek, Latin) depend on the level of previous experience. You must have completed appropriate courses/classes in the language at your home university if you want to do higher level (Level 2 or above) language modules.

If you do not have any experience with the language in question, you should take a Level 1 course.

You should also check the pre-requisites for non-language modules carefully. Level 2 and 3 modules may require detailed subject knowledge. If you do not have this, you should choose a Level 1 module.

Recommended modules: None specified.

Closed modules: None specified.

Architecture, School of

General Guidance: Study Abroad students are strongly advised to begin their period of study in Architecture in Semester One. It is required that you upload your portfolio with your latest work to be vetted by the academic. Incoming Students wishing to take 3rd year modules only, will be offered the same core modules as Liverpool students, with no choice or options. For those exchanging into 4th year (i.e. MArch level), the options are similarly limited to the 'standard' set that Liverpool students take: ARCH403, ARCH404, ARCH405 (plus one from ARCH311, ARCH371 if studying for one semester only).

Recommended Modules: None specified

Closed modules: Please note that modules from MA Architecture (postgraduate Masters) are not available to undergraduate 4th year Incoming Study Abroad students.

Environmental Sciences, School of

The School of Environmental Sciences brings together the following academic disciplines: Geography, Marine Biology and Ecology, Ocean Sciences and Town and Regional Planning. Please see the relevant subject boxes for module information.

A number of our modules involve field trips ranging in duration from local day trips through to long duration overseas trips. Incoming Study Abroad students wishing to take a module involving a field class element may be required to make a contribution towards the cost of the trip, which can range a few pounds for a day-trip, through to c. £1,500 for two-weeks in Singapore. The exact cost associated with a given field class activity can be provided on request (as they change year-to-year). Depending on your country of origin you may need a visa for international field classes.

Electrical Engineering and Electronics, Department of

General Guidance: You should choose suitable Level 3 modules. If you are staying for the full year, you should apply for Level 3 Semester Two modules during Semester One. Please also see the EEE handbook: https://www.liv.ac.uk/intranet/media/intranet/electrical-engineering-and-electronics/studenthandbooks/UG\_Handbook.pdf (from page 23 onwards for EEE programmes)

Recommended modules: Students should have completed pre-requisite modules in their home Universities.

Closed modules: Level 1 modules: ELEC171,ELEC172,ELEC222,ELEC273,ELEC340 and ELEC440. Level 2 modules can only be taken with your Home University's consent.
